Welcome to Bennettville!

Scenario:

You are a hobo and just arrived in Bennettville after riding the rods for 65 kilometres. As a relatively inexperienced hobo, you are just catching on to the hobo language. Hoboes would scratch symbols into trees or the sidewalks in front of people's homes to warn fellow hoboes about places to stay away from or where they can get relief.

Your hobo mentor taught you the special symbols and has left you on your own. This is the first time that you are on your own and now you must use your skills to survive. But watch out!! If you attempt to go to the wrong house, you will go to jail! So, be careful about which houses you visit in search of relief (help). Good luck!

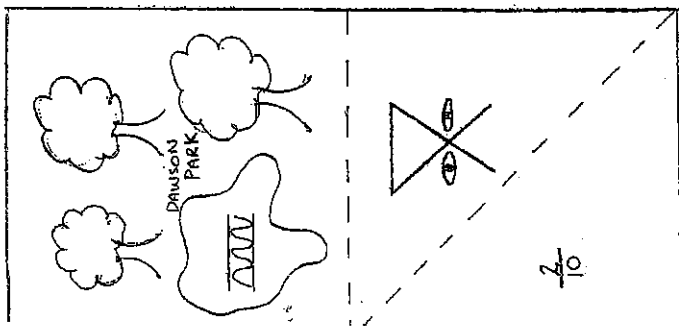

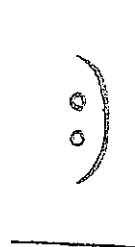

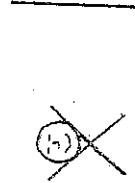

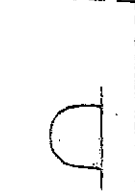

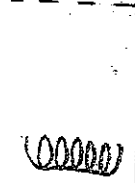

Assignment:

1. You notice 2 billboards as you sneak off the train. What should you know about Bennettville?

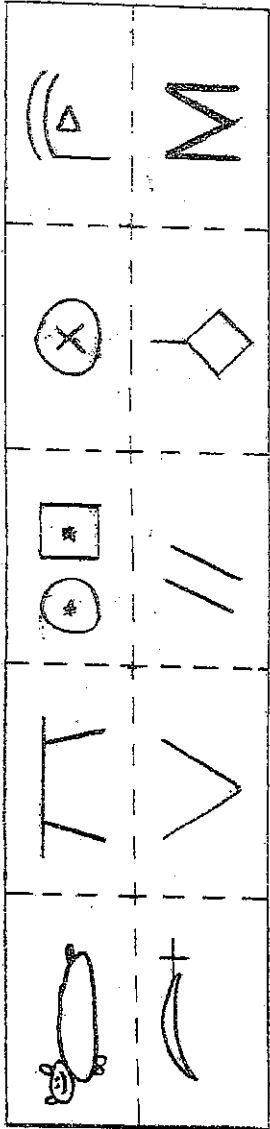

2. You walk through the train station and find yourself on Bennett Boulevard. A hobo etched a symbol in the pavement. What is this area of town like?

3. You are tired and are looking for a place to stay. This town surely must have a hobo jungle! Find it. Once you locate it, scratch your own hobo symbol in the pavement in front of the train station to direct other hoboes where to go to find the hobo jungle.
4. You wake up the next morning and are very thirsty. There has to be a park somewhere in this town to get some water or to quickly wash up. On what intersection can you find good water to drink? _____
5. Along the way, you clumsily roll your ankle on the sidewalk. Ouchh!! You need some sort of medical attention. What streets can you find the nearest hospital or doctor?

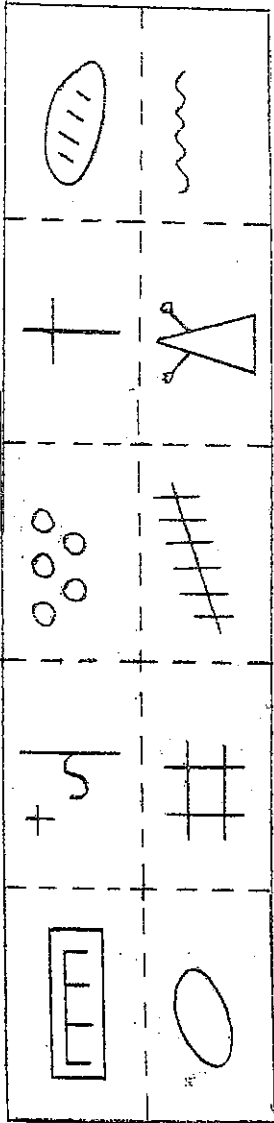

6. You've seen a lot of the town today and would like to spend more time here. However, you must avoid getting caught by the police and stay out of harm's way.
 - Use one colour to shade in all the safe places where you can visit over the next month. The colour I am using is _____.
 - Use a different colour to shade in all the places you must avoid. The colour I am using is _____.
